

6516205487.txt

XM Radio is a subscription service which I enjoy, and I don't see how a simple service such as weather or news which I pay for with no tax money could bother the government. It is not your job to ban such information from the public if they are willing to pay for it. I am sure no one will read this or even give a darn about my opinion, but it seems to me we have much more to worry about than weather reports on a subscriptions service.